NEWS FROM RUSSIA

Putin To Return As Russian President

The Financial Times reports: "Russia's Prime Minister Vladimir Putin will return to his post as president next year after he and president Dmitry Medvedev announced they were switching jobs.

The announcement was made at the annual conference of United Russia, the hegemonic party that controls two-thirds of Russia's parliament. It put to rest intrigue over Mr. Putin's next move.

The announcement confirms the long-held impression that Mr. Medvedev was only ever a place holder for Mr. Putin, who was constitutionally prohibited from a third term after serving as president from 2000-2008.

Mr. Putin is now likely to win two consecutive 6 year terms, giving him a total of a quarter century in power from the time he took over the Kremlin in 2000. He remains Russia's strongest political figure despite stepping aside for four years.

Mr. Putin started proceedings, telling delegates that Mr. Medvedev would succeed him in heading the United Russia party's election list in December 4 parliamentary elections. Later, he suggested Mr. Medvedev's candidacy for prime minister, which

Mr. Medvedev accepted..." (It looks very promising that Vladimir Putin could become the "Gog of Magog" that heads up Russia for the war of the "Latter years and latter days" — Armageddon — Ezekiel 38:1, 2, 8, 16; Revelation 16:16.)

Russia's Putin Says Wants To Build "Eurasian Union"

Reuters reports: "Russia's Prime Minister Vladimir Putin said he wants to bring ex-Soviet states into a 'Eurasian Union' in an article which outlined his first foreign policy initiative as he prepares to return to the Kremlin as the country's next president.

Putin said the new union would build on an existing Customs Union with Belarus and Kazakhstan which from next year will remove all barriers to trade, capital and labor movement between the three countries.

'We are not going to stop there and are setting an ambitious goal -- to achieve an even higher integration level in the Eurasian Union,' Putin wrote in an article published in Izvestia newspaper on October 4.

Putin said he would run in the March 2012 presidential election and his current public approval ratings show that he is set to win.

Putin's initiative comes as Russia nears the end of its 18-year-old negotiations to join the World Trade Organization. In the article Putin made no secret of his skepticism about the global trade watchdog..." (This headline is stunning prophetically speaking since Russia and "the kings of the East" [Orient], yes, the 'Eurasian Union' unite for the greatest war in history — Daniel 11:44; Ezekiel 38 & 39; Revelation 16:12; Revelation 9:14-18.)

Analysts Say Medvedev-Putin Job Swap No Surprise

Voice of America News reports: "Russian President Dmitri Medvedev will swap jobs next year with Prime Minister Vladimir Putin. In this report from Washington, senior correspondent Andre de Nesnera looks at the ramifications of such a move.

Russian political experts say the announcement that Vladimir Putin will run for president in next year's elections while Dmitri Medvedev will become prime minister in a new government took no one by surprise.

'People have been puzzling over what was going to happen, knowing that it would be between the two of them for some time, and a lot of people for some time have thought Putin intended to come back,' said Robert Legvold, a Russia expert at Columbia University. 'Remember two years ago when they extended the presidential term [from four to six years], the assumption was that had been pushed through so that Putin could come back even earlier than a regular constitutional election. So it's been around for some time...' (I proclaimed that this move would occur when Putin's term ended. See the opening article.)

Russia Condemns U.S. Missile Defense Deal, Warns of New Era of Cold War

The Fars News Agency reports: "Russia is alarmed at the U.S. decision to station four ships at a base on Spain's Atlantic coast as part of an American-led NATO missile defense system, the Russian Foreign Ministry said, warning that the move would provoke a new arms race.

The U.S. approach to developing its capability against missile threats in Europe is 'unacceptable,' the ministry said in a statement published on its website.

Russia 'cannot but be alarmed because already in the first phase it's leading to a substantial buildup of the U.S. anti-missile capability in Europe,' the ministry said.

Spain is the fourth European nation agreeing to participate directly in the Europe-wide missile defense program, intended to protect against attacks from adversaries allegedly Russia, China and Iran. U.S. President Barack Obama pursued U.S. plans for the system in 2009, and the administration has obtained agreements with Poland, Romania and Turkey to host elements of the shield.

The Navy cruisers, equipped with Aegis radar, will operate from the Rota naval base in Southwestern Spain, a facility built by the U.S. military in the 1950s and used by both countries, giving ready access to the Mediterranean in potential clashes.

Russia has warned the U.S.-led plan may provoke a new arms race and upset a strategic balance in the region by threatening its nuclear deterrent capability...' (From the day President Obama signed the non-proliferation treaty, I predicted it would fail and signs of what I said are beginning to develop as the Cold War nears again. ## CONTENDING FOR THE FAITH

Christian Café Owner Warned By Police Over Bible Verse Display

ChristianToday.com reports: "The owner of a Christian café has been told by police to stop displaying 'offensive' Bible verses.

Police visited Jamie Murray, owner of the Salt & Light Coffee House in Blackpool following a complaint about 'insulting' and 'homophobic' material, according to The Christian Institute, which is advising Mr. Murray.

The café has a TV mounted on the wall that displays verses of the Bible from a set of DVDs called the Watchword Bible.

The DVDs provide audio and text of the entire New Testament but the volume is turned down in the café.

Police told Mr. Murray they had received a complaint about 'insulting' and 'homophobic' material being displayed in the café, although they did not tell him the specific texts relating to the complaint.

According to The Christian Institute, Mr. Murray was told to stop displaying the Bible verses because it breached Section 5 of the Public Order Act, which forbids the display of offensive or insulting words.

He said: 'I couldn't believe the police were saying I can't display the Bible. The officers were not very polite; in fact they were quite aggressive. It felt like an interrogation...' (Jude 1:3, 4, 10, 14, 15.)

Condemned Pastor Won't Renounce Faith

The Australian reports: "Britain's Foreign Secretary and the Archbishop of Canterbury intervened to try to save a Christian pastor in Iran who has refused to renounce his faith to escape a death sentence.

An Iranian court gave Youcef Nadarkhani, 34, a third and final chance to avoid hanging, but he replied: 'I am resolute in my faith and Christianity and have no wish to recant.'

The panel of five judges will decide whether to confirm his execution for apostasy, Mohammed Ali Dadkhah, his lawyer, told The Times.

William Hague said that he 'deplored' Pastor Nadarkhani's plight, and a senior Foreign and Commonwealth Office diplomat telephoned the Iranian Charge d'Affaires in London to protest.

'This demonstrates the Iranian regime's continued unwillingness to abide by its constitutional and international obligations to respect religious freedom,' Mr. Hague said. 'I pay tribute to the courage shown by Pastor Nadarkhani, who has no case to answer, and call on the Iranian authorities to overturn his sentence.'

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Rowan Williams, broke his silence to express 'deep concern' at the sentence faced by Pastor Nadarkhani, and at the persecution of religious minorities in Iran generally.

Sources said that Christian clerics and advisers had been working hard behind the scenes to save the pastor's life, but had sought to avoid 'megaphone diplomacy' in case it did more harm than good..." (This headline is the beginning of death sentences in Muslim nations for Jews and Christians — especially under the passage of the Blasphemy Law — Matthew 24:9; John 16:2; Revelation 6:9; 13:15; 20:4.)

Case of Iranian Pastor Facing Death Penalty Reportedly In Hands Of Supreme Leader

Fox News reports: "The case of an Iranian pastor facing a possible death sentence has reportedly been referred to Iran's supreme leader, a move some say shows the Islamic republic is feeling pressure in the face of growing international support.

Attorney Mohammad Ali Dadkhah told AFP that an Iranian court has decided to seek the opinion of Ayatollah Ali Khamenei — the Islamic republic's spiritual leader and highest authority — in the case of Youcef Nadarkhani, a 32-year-old pastor who was arrested in October 2009 and later sentenced to death for converting to Christianity.

Dadkhah and religious rights organizations say Nadarkhani is facing possible execution for apostasy and for refusing to renounce his religion, contradicting reports by Iran state media that have indicated Nadarkhani was found guilty of rape, extortion and security-related crimes. Messages seeking comment from Dadkhah were not immediately returned.

Jordan Sekulow, executive director of the American Center for Law and Justice, a Washington-based organization that is monitoring Nadarkhani's case, told FoxNews.com that the move was unusual and is part of the 'secretive process' within the Iranian judicial system.

'Based on these reports, Pastor Youcef is alive and we have reached the highest level of Iranian government,' Sekulow said. 'I don't believe this would've ever reached the level of Khamenei without the media attention and outpouring of support we've seen.'..." (Imam Khamenei hates Christianity and only a miracle can save this Godly Christian Pastor. Regardless of the outcome God says in Revelation 2:10 "Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." ### Girl's School Expulsion For Blasphemy Alarms British Pakistani Christians

ChristianToday.com reports: "British Pakistani Christians have voiced dismay over the expulsion of a Christian girl from a school over blasphemy allegations.

Faryal Bhatti was accused of blasphemy by officials at Sir Syed Girls High School in Pakistan Ordnance Factories (POF) colony in Havelian, near Abbottabad.

The accusation was made after she misspelled a word in a class test on a poem praising the Prophet Muhammad.

She was reportedly beaten by her teacher over the mistake before the school took the decision to expel her.

A rally was held by local Muslims demanding that criminal charges be brought against Bhatti. At Friday prayers imams said her entire family should be punished.

The decision to expel her was taken by officials following a meeting with the girl and her mother in which Bhatti apologised and tried to explain that it had been a simple spelling mistake...

Wilson Chowdhry, head of the British

Pakistani Christian Association, said this was not an isolated incident and that Christians in Pakistani schools are forced to take Islamic lessons and face pressure to convert or take part in Islamic worship.

He said that Bhatti's expulsion 'demonstrates that too often there is little difference between the 'mainstream' and 'extremist' educational establishments in Pakistan'..."

Coptic Church Torched in Egypt

ChristianToday.com reports: "A mob of several thousand Muslims from the village of Elmarinab in Edfu, Aswan province, demolished and torched St. George's church, which was being renovated.

According to Mary Abdelmassih, writing for AINA — Assyrian International News Agency, the mob demolished the dome, walls and columns, after Friday prayers then went to the church depot where the lumber to be used for construction was stored and torched it. The fire lasted 2 hours, but the attack continued until 7 PM.

AINA says that in an interview on Coptic TV channel, Father Salib of St. George's Church said: 'The Imam of one of the village mosques called on the people to take matters in their own hands.' Other witnesses named the Imam as Sheikh Sabry.

AINA reports that according to eyewitnesses, the Muslims also torched a large depot of electrical goods owned by a Coptic Christian, a supermarket and four Coptic homes. Muslims prevented the fire brigade from entering the village. Security forces, which were present, 'stood there watching,' said Mr. Michael Ramzy, a social worker at the church..." (Coptic Christians are members of the Roman Catholic faith as are the Chaldean Christians. ### Thousands Of Egyptians March In Cairo’s Tahrir Square For Copt’s Funeral

Haaretz reports: “Thousands of Egyptians marched in central Cairo’s

Tahrir square for the funeral procession of a young man who was killed in clashes between mostly Coptic Christians and government troops.

Mourners marched from the Coptic Hospital to Tahrir square carrying the coffin of Mina Daniel, who was among 26 people killed in the violence that took place in front of the state television building in Cairo.

The Health Ministry said nearly 300 people were wounded.

Egypt’s Coptic Christians begin a three-day fast to mourn the dead.

About 2,000 people had gathered in Cairo for an initially peaceful rally to protest at the destruction of a church in southern Egypt. Fighting soon broke out among the protesters, residents and troops...”

KNOWLEDGE INCREASED

Body Suit May Soon Enable The Paralyzed To Walk

The LA Times reports: “In a busy lab at Duke University, Dr. Miguel Nicolelis is merging brain science with engineering in a bid to create something fantastical: a full-body prosthetic device that would allow those immobilized by injury to walk again.

Nicolelis and an international group of collaborators declared that they had cleared a key hurdle on the path toward that goal, demonstrating they could bypass the body’s complex network of nerve endings and supply the sensation of touch directly to the brains of monkeys.

Nicolelis and his collaborators — engineers, neuroscientists and physiologists from Brazil, Switzerland, Germany and the United States — are working toward an ambitious objective: On the opening day of the 2014 World Cup soccer tournament in Brazil, they hope to send a young quadriplegic striding out to midfield to open the games, suited up in the ‘prosthetic exoskeleton’ they aim to build...” (Daniel 12:4 “knowledge shall be increased” just preceding Christ’s return. ### Scientists Use Cloning To Make Human Stem Cells

Reuters reports: “U.S. scientists for the first time have used a cloning technique to get tailor-made embryonic stem cells to grow in unfertilized human egg cells, a landmark finding and a potential new flashpoint for opponents of stem cell research.

The researchers were trying to prove it is possible to use a cloning technology called somatic cell nuclear transfer, or SCNT, to make embryonic stem cells that match a patient’s DNA.

The achievement, published in the journal Nature, is significant because such patient-specific cells potentially can be transplanted to replace damaged cells in people with diabetes and other diseases without rejection by the immune system.

This technique could ignite new controversy because some opponents consider it to be cloning, which they fiercely oppose.

“This paper will be seen as significant both by those who are trying to use SCNT to produce human patient-specific embryonic stem cell lines and by those who oppose human ‘cloning’ experiments,” said Professor Robin Lovell-Badge, a division head at Britain’s National Institute for Medical Research...”

THE MIDDLE EAST TINDERBOX

Assad Warns To Set Fire On Middle-East In Case Of U.S. Attack

The Fars News Agency reports: “Syrian President Bashar al-Assad in a meeting with Turkish Foreign Minister

Ahmad Davutoglu threatened the western countries that if Syria comes under a NATO attack, it would set fire on the Middle-East, especially Israel.

‘If a crazy measure is taken against

Damascus, I will need not more than 6 hours to transfer hundreds of rockets and missiles to the Golan Heights to fire them at Tel Aviv,’ Assad said after Davutoglu conveyed the United States’ warning message to him.

He also reiterated that Damascus will also call on Hezbollah in Lebanon to launch such an intensive rocket and missile attack on Israel that the Israeli spy agencies could never imagine.

‘All these events will happen in three hours, but in the second three hours, Iran will attack the US warships in the Persian Gulf and the US and European interests will be targeted simultaneously,’ Assad said...” (Syria is about to experience a massive attack that will make their capital, Damascus, a heap of rubble. ### Syria Clergyman Threatens West With Suicide Attacks

Haaretz reports: “Syria’s highest Sunni Muslim clergyman, Mufti Ahmed Badereddine Hassoun, threatened to order suicide attacks in the United States and Europe if his country is attacked.

‘I am telling this to Europe and the United States: We will set up suicide attackers who now live on your land in case you bomb Syria or Lebanon,’ Hasson said in a video posted on the website of the Al Arabiya television network.

Hassoun was addressing a delegation of Lebanese women who had come to offer their condolences for his son’s death.

Hassoun’s son was killed by unknown gunmen in front of a university in Aleppo.

Earlier Syrian President Bashar Assad said Syria will strike Israel and ‘set fire’ to the Middle East if foreign forces choose to launch a military strike on the protest-ridden country, the Iranian news agency Fars reported. ### Iran Says Its New Cruise Missile Can ‘Sink Giant Warships’

Fox News reports: “Iran has begun to mass manufacture a domestically developed cruise missile that reportedly could be used to strike Israel and potentially counter U.S. naval presence in the Persian Gulf.

The missile, called Ghader, which means capable in Farsi, has a 124-mile range and can ‘sink giant warships,’ Gen. Ahmad Vahidi, the Iranian defense minister, said in an interview on Press TV. He went on to say the missile could be launched quickly and travel at low altitudes.

The exact number of missiles produced is unclear, but they reportedly were delivered to the Revolutionary Guard’s naval division. The country often makes announcements about new advances in military technology that cannot be independently verified.

Vahidi called the manufacture of the missile a ‘great achievement’ and denied reports circulating that the missile was not produced in the country, The Jerusalem Post reported.

Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad unveiled the missile in August, when he said the intention was defensive and to ensure that Iran’s enemies ‘do not dare attack,’ the AFP reported...” (Iran will eventually be aligned with Russia for World War III — Ezekiel 38:1, 2, 11, 8, and 16. # TERROREST THREAT

Al Qaeda Drone Attacks On U.S.? Soon It Won’t Be So Far-Fetched.

The Christian Science Monitor reports: “A terrorist attack on the nation’s capital using remote-control model airplanes to deliver bombs, as an American Al Qaeda sympathizer arrested in Massachusetts is alleged to have planned, may seem far-fetched or silly.

But perhaps not for long. The U.S., after all, has already been using unmanned planes to attack Al Qaeda targets with deadly accuracy for years.

And now the emerging international market for unmanned aerial vehicles, or UAVs, is exploding, bringing down the cost and expanding the availability of highly capable drone aircraft that could be rigged to deliver explosives, biological or chemical weapons with extreme accuracy — and be difficult or impossible to stop, experts on the subject say.

Groups could smuggle drones into the country or launch them from a ship offshore. Thanks to the development of highly accurate GPS flight systems, even kit-built airplanes could be rigged with explosives and sent hundreds of miles at low altitude, below radar, and crashed into a target, several UAV threat studies have found...” (Drone attacks; the most dangerous and simplest way to kill humans is being readied for the near future — II Timothy 3:1. See how in the next report.)

Model Plane Bomb Plot Tests U.S. Antiterrorism Strategy At Home

The Christian Science Monitor reports: “The arrest of a man the FBI says is a would-be Islamic terrorist is now Exhibit A in the U.S. fight against home-grown violent extremism — a textbook case in what to look for and how to respond to ‘lone-wolf’ jihadis intent on doing their fellow Americans harm.

The essence of the strategy is to find and track such individuals as they troll the Internet for terrorist websites, then use undercover agents or willing civilians to set up a sting operation in which the suspect is allowed to continue plotting right up until the moment the trap snaps shut and the arrest is made.

One important feature here is to give such suspects chances to back off — asking if they know that innocent civilians could be killed, for example — so that illegal entrapment does not stymie the government’s case.

That’s the way the FBI and other law enforcement agencies say they were able to arrest Rezwan Ferdaus, a U.S. citizen and graduate of Boston’s Northeastern University with a degree in physics, charging him with plotting to kill U.S. soldiers overseas as well as planning to attack the Pentagon and the U.S. Capitol with explosives carried by remote control aircraft...”

U.S. Defense Secretary: Israel increasingly Isolated In Middle East

Haaretz reports: “Defense Secretary Leon Panetta warned that Israel is becoming increasingly isolated in the Middle East and said U.S. security commitments should enable it to take ‘risks for peace.’

Panetta, who arrived in Israel for the first time since becoming Pentagon chief, said he would reaffirm U.S. security commitments to Israel and try to help it improve its increasingly chilly relations with Turkey and Egypt.

‘It’s pretty clear, at this dramatic time in the Middle East when there have been so many changes, that it is not a good situation for Israel to become increasingly isolated. And that is what has happened,’ Panetta told reporters on his plane.

Panetta’s visit to the Middle East, which includes meetings with Palestinian and Egyptian leaders, comes at a time when Arab popular demand for political change has buffeted the region, raising hopes, tensions and uncertainty...” (Ungodly nations will attempt to fulfill Psalm 83:4 – “They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.” However, Yahweh God will not allow such anti-Semites [Jew Haters] to win because the God of Israel says in Isaiah 56:5

Gantz: Israel Must Always Be War-Ready

YnetNews.com reports: “IDF Chief of Staff Lt.-Gen Benny Gantz was 14-years-old when the Yom Kippur War broke out. ‘I remember sitting by the radio, anxiously listening to reports from the frontline,’ he tells Yedioth Ahronoth in a special holiday interview.

‘I remember that it was clear that the Paratroopers’ 890th Battalion was part of all of the crucial battles.’

Gantz’s military doctrine can be described, to some extent, as a product of the Paratroopers’ legendary ‘Echis’ Airborne Battalion. The ‘890,’ as it is referred to by its veterans, is where he earned his proverbial stripes and the battalion is famous for sprouting some of Israel’s most prominent key figures.

The main lessons from the Yom Kippur War, he says, ‘Is that we must always be war-ready. We’ve taken this approach and solidified it into an operational perception of readiness and alertness. It is what dictates our daily fight against tenacious threats.’

The IDF, he continued, ‘Is also constantly developing its adaptability to changes dictated by the challenges it faces. We can never grow accustomed to any (operational) concept and we must always study given situations further and adapt to regional changes.’

Could Israel find itself once more taken by surprise by an enemy army? ‘We hope not,’ Gantz said gingerly. ‘This is why we must continue to cultivate our military superiority and the IDF must always be at the top of its game...’ (Israel will be ready under God’s guidance. The Fars News Agency reports: “A Lebanese strategic analyst warned that Hezbollah would strike the Israeli facilities if Tel Aviv continues stealing Lebanon’s oil and sea reserves.

‘In case the enemy steals Lebanon’s oil, Hezbollah will have the right to strike its oil installations and facilities,’ Feisal Abdossater told FNA.

The analyst cautioned that Zionists’ aggressive and expansionist moves in the Mediterranean Sea has heightened tension between the two sides, and said the situation is now ripe for the start of clashes between Lebanon and the Israeli regime.

‘Zionists’ plot to find control over

Lebanon's sea wealth has a high potential for clashes between the two sides and is likely to have dire consequences,' he stated.

'The Lebanese Islamic resistance will not tolerate any kind of aggressions against the country's sovereignty,' he reiterated, and added, 'Hezbollah views the oil resources in Lebanon's water as a treasure for the Lebanese nation and has declared its position in this regard very transparently.'

The Jerusalem Post reports: "Israel is a creation of the West so that it could exert control over the Middle East, Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad said in his closing remarks to the 'Intifada Conference' in Tehran.

The establishment of Israel, he said, was the 'most heinous historical crime,' PressTV reported.

The Iranian president slammed what he described as a western intolerance for debate over the Jewish state's existence.

Israel, he said, has become so sanctified in western capitals that 'any criticism of the Zionist regime is tantamount to being a terrorist,' according to PressTV.

'The only sacred thing in Europe is the Zionist regime.'

Speaking at the conference Iranian supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei rejected the Palestinians' UN statehood bid, saying any deal that accepts the existence of Israel would leave a 'cancerous tumor' forever threatening the security of the Middle East.

The Jerusalem Post reports: "Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad said he believes 'Palestine will one day be liberated,' saying the Iranian government believes it is the Palestinians's right to establish a state, speaking with university students in New York.

It would be better for the United States, he added, to 'stop supporting the Zionist regime,' the official Iranian IRNA news agency reported.

Entering dialogue with Israel, Ahmadinejad added, would not solve the Palestinians's problems. He was referring to U.S. President Barack Obama's speech at the United Nations in which he said that only negotiations could lead to the establishment of a Palestinian state.

Israel itself, he claimed, was established 'in a bid to extend dominance over the Middle East.'

Haaretz reports: “The conflict between Israel and the Palestinians could be resolved if Jewish immigrants would return to their countries of origin, thus allowing Palestinian refugees to return

Speaking at the sidelines of the International Conference on Palestine in Tehran, the Iranian president was quoted by AFP as saying that if ‘the backers of the Zionist regime want to solve the issue... the solution is simple ... everyone should go home.’

‘Some poor people were brought to Palestine on the promise of security and jobs while they made Palestinian people into refugees... So now Palestinians should go home and those brought here should go to theirs,’ Ahmadinejad was quoted by AFP.

Ahmadinejad was also quoted by the IRNA news agency earlier as questioning whether or not the Palestinian-Israeli conflict was in fact having to involve Western countries.

Ahmadinejad: U.S. And Allies Threaten Anyone Who Attacks Holocaust, 9/11

Haaretz reports: “Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad attacked Western powers for a catalogue of misdeeds, but his address to the United Nations failed to mention Tehran’s disputed nuclear program.

The U.S. delegation walked out when Ahmadinejad said ‘arrogant powers’ threatened anyone who questioned the Holocaust and the Sept. 11 attacks on the United States with sanctions and military action. Other Western delegations soon made their exit.

Ahmadinejad made only a passing reference to the Palestinian issue which has overshadowed this year’s UN General Assembly and did not comment on the Palestinian plan to ask the UN Security Council to recognize their nascent state.

He accused the United States of using the ‘mysterious’ Sept. 11, 2001, attacks as a pretext to launch wars on Iraq and Afghanistan. The United States and its allies ‘view Zionism as a sacred notion and ideology,’ the Iranian leader said.

‘By using their imperialistic media network which is under the influence of colonialism they threaten anyone who questions the Holocaust and the Sept. 11 event with sanctions and military actions,’ he added...”

Al-Qaeda Slams Iran 'Conspiracy Theories'

YnetNews.com reports: “It’s not often that the al-Qaeda terror organization stands by the United States, the ‘Great Satan’. The person who has managed to unite the two enemies in a joint goal is none other than Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, who has been spreading conspiracy theories on the 9/11 terror offensive.

The ABC network’s website reported that in the latest issue of the al-Qaeda English-language magazine ‘Inspire’, an author appears to take offense to the ‘ridiculous’ theory repeatedly spread by Ahmadinejad that the 9/11 attacks were actually carried out by the U.S. government in order to provide a pretext to invade the Middle East.

According to the article, ‘The Iranian government has professed on the tongue of its president Ahmadinejad that it does not believe that al-Qaeda was behind 9/11, but rather the U.S. government. So we may ask the question: Why would Iran ascribe to such a ridiculous belief that stands in the face of all logic and evidence?’

The author admits that Iran was the first of the two to use the ‘Great Satan’ as a synonym for the U.S., but claims that the Islamic Republic sees itself as a rival for al-Qaeda when it comes to anti-Americanism and is jealous of the 9/11 attacks.
