Six powers clinch breakthrough deal curbing Iran's nuclear activity

Reuters reports: "Iran and six world powers clinched a deal on Sunday [11/24/13] curbing the Iranian nuclear program in exchange for initial sanctions relief, signaling the start of a game-changing rapprochement that would reduce the risk of a wider Middle East war.

Aimed at easing a long festering standoff, the interim pact between Iran and the United States, France, Germany, Britain, China and Russia won the critical endorsement of Iranian clerical Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei.

U.S. President Barack Obama said the deal struck after marathon, tortuous and politically charged negotiations cut off Tehran's possible routes to a nuclear bomb.

But Israel, Iran's arch-enemy, a U.S. ally, denounced the agreement as an 'historic mistake'. Critics in the U.S. Congress were quick to voice concern, with some raising the specter of failure to rein in North Korea on its nuclear programs, but they signaled that Congress would likely give the deal a chance to work.

The agreement, which halts Iran's most sensitive nuclear activity, its higher-grade enrichment of uranium, was tailored as a package of confidence-building steps towards reducing decades of tension and ultimately creating a more stable, secure Middle East... (President Obama gave the above deal only a 50% chance of happening. I give it a zero. Why? First and foremost, Ezekiel chapters 38 & 39 picture Russia as the leader of the Armageddon conflict, World War III. Secondly, China and an Arab federation join Russia for the greatest war in history – Revelation 16:12 and Revelation 9:14 – 18. The Arab nations united with these two nations are found in Daniel 11:40; Isaiah 17:1; Ezekiel 38:5 – 7; and Psalms 83:4-7. Israel is their enemy mentioned 18 times in Ezekiel chapters 38 & 39. Worse yet is that Ayatollah Ali Khamenei wants to destroy Israel and drive every Jew into the sea to rid the world of God's Chosen People.)

Dershowitz: Iran deal could be a 'Chamberlain moment'

Breitbart.com reports: "Harvard professor and noted civil rights and international law expert Alan Dershowitz criticized the nuclear deal with Iran sharply on Sunday [11/24/13], saying that it 'could become a Chamberlain moment' for President Barack Obama.

'I don't think that this deal was motivated by any anti-Israel sentiment,' Dershowitz told Breitbart News. 'I think that both President Obama and Secretary of State Kerry believe that the deal is in the best interest of the U.S. and Israel. But I think they're dead wrong.'

'When you do a risk-benefit analysis, the possibility that this will actually result in ending Iran's nuclear weapons program is probably in the range of 10%, and the risk that it will increase their likelihood of moving quickly toward developing a nuclear weapon is in the 20% to 30% range. The rest is uncertainty.'

'I think it was a very bad example of negotiating from weakness rather than strength. The U.S. had Iran where we wanted them, in a much weakened position. And instead of continuing the pressure we sent three messages. 1. Sanctions are over. We are going to eliminate some now—it's only a few billion dollars' worth, but we are going to send a message to China and others that have been dying to do business with Iran that it's OK. And we will never get them back to that point of pressure. 2. I think we effectively took the military option off the table and made it much more difficult for Israel to pursue a military option in the next several months. 3. We gave them a yellow light, at least, if not quite a green one, as to continuing onto certain aspects of developing nuclear weapons—triggering devices and material that could be easily transposed to military use...” (Dershowitz is 100% right. Chamberlain of England went to Germany to negotiate a peace pact for England. He returned telling the citizens that Hitler was a man the U.K. could trust. He saw the love Germany’s Führer had for the British people so he promoted the peace agreement he brought back throughout the nation. Winston Churchill rebuked Chamberlain and lived to see his beloved country repeatedly and mercilessly bombed. Chamberlain asked for forgiveness before he died. Beware Obama; you seldom take anyone’s advice. See the next four reports.)

Prime Minister Netanyahu: Iran agreement a ‘historic mistake’

Israel National News reports: “Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu opened Sunday’s [11/24/13] weekly cabinet meeting by mounting a sharp attack on the agreement reached Saturday night between Iran and Western powers over the nuclear issue.

Netanyahu stated, ‘For the first time, the world’s leading powers have agreed to uranium enrichment in Iran while ignoring the U.N. Security Council decisions that they themselves led. Sanctions that required many years to put in place contain the best chance for a peaceful solution. These sanctions have been given up in exchange for cosmetic Iranian concessions that can be cancelled in weeks.’

‘Implications of this agreement threaten many countries - including, of course, Israel. Israel is not bound by this agreement,’ Netanyahu affirmed. ‘What we achieved last night in Geneva is not a historic agreement; it is a historic mistake.’

He continued, ‘Today the world has become a more dangerous place, because the most dangerous regime in the world took another step towards achieving the most dangerous weapon in the world.’...”

Rouhani: Deal ‘shook the foundations’ of the sanctions

Israel National News reports: “The Twitter account of Iran’s President Hassan Rouhani worked overtime on Tuesday [11/26/13], as he claimed victory in this weekend’s nuclear deal in a series of tweets marking the 100th day of his presidency.

Rouhani called the Geneva deal a ‘very positive first step’ and said it ‘shook the foundations’ of the international sanctions regime, reported The Hill.

He vowed that a final deal will allow Iran to continue nuclear enrichment, writing, ‘In relation to nuclear issue, I want to assure our people’ that Iran won’t give up any of its rights - including the right to enrich uranium for peaceful purposes.

‘Enrichment, which is part of our rights, will continue. It continues today and will continue tomorrow,’ he declared, according to The Hill.

Rouhani went on to say that the interim deal agreed to over the weekend sets the stage for a final agreement granting Iran the right to enrich uranium on its soil...” (President Rouhani is no better than the second Hitler, Ahmadinejad, only more clever in his murderous statements.

Remember this is the man who served Khomeini who returned from exile in France, removed the great Shah of Iran, and is responsible for much of the massive killing army Muslims presently called the Arab Spring.

The present Imam Khamenei has the same goals as Khomeini for holy jihad and the domination of the entire world including the setting up of the Iranian flag in front of the White House.

Rouhani served both Imam’s and presently and hypocritically plans a nuclear plan that will fail and all hell will break loose globally.

Remember, Ezekiel 38:5 has Persia united with Russia and China for World War III and Persia changed its name to Iran in 1935.)

Iran: ‘After ten years, we have emerged victorious’

Israel National News reports: “The deal signed between Iran and the ‘P5+1’ nations was a victory for the Islamic Republic, the Chairman of Iran’s Parliamentary Committee for Foreign Policy has said.

Chairman Alaeddin Boroujerdi rejoiced in the Iranian ‘victory’ in an interview with Iran’s Arabic-language Al-Alam television this week. The interview was translated by the Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI).

‘By now, the Islamic Republic controls all aspects of nuclear science. From A-Z, from the very beginning all the way to uranium enrichment,’ Boroujerdi declared.

‘After ten years, we have emerged victorious over the West. They wanted to prevent us from acquiring nuclear technology, but we have reached that point,’ he continued.

Iran sacrificed ‘martyrs’ and endured an ‘economic siege’ for the sake of its nuclear program, he said. ‘Now we have emerged victorious heroes,’ he stated.

The deal shows that the West has given up on stopping Iran from producing enriched uranium, he continued. ‘The Americans reached the conclusion that it would be futile to continue with their policy of confronting the Islamic Republic... They wanted to prevent Iran from enriching uranium, but we have attained this technology and we are currently using it.

‘Therefore, the Americans changed their policy,’ he said. The West has now officially recognized that Iran enriches uranium, he explained...”

Assad to Rouhani: Iran nuclear deal boosts Tehran’s position in region, world

The Jerusalem Post reports: “Syrian President Bashar Assad called his Iranian counterpart Hassan Rouhani on Wednesday [11/27/13], congratulating him on the interim agreement Tehran signed with the West over the weekend in regard to its nuclear program.

According to Syria's official news agency, SANA, Assad hailed Rouhani's achievement as enshrining the rights of developing countries to pursue peaceful nuclear energy. He added that the deal boosts Iran's position both in the region and internationally.

Assad posited that the agreement would also positively affect Syria because of the close strategic ties between Damascus and Tehran.

According to SANA, Rouhani reaffirmed to Assad his support in Syria's 'war against terrorism.'..."

Bloodbath as terrorists murder 70 Christians

WND.com reports: "At least 70 Christians in Nigeria have been killed in coordinated attacks by Fulani tribesmen and the Islamic jihadist organization Boko Haram.

Fulani tribesmen reportedly killed 37 Christians in at least four coordinated attacks on the same day.

Boko Haram is reported to have killed as many as 34 Christians during the same three-day period.

William Stark, Africa analyst for the human-rights organization International Christian Concern, said the recent killing 'spree' of Christians in Nigeria's northern and middle belts regions 'is, unfortunately, tragic and typical at the same time.'

'Boko Haram attacks, and attacks perpetrated by Fulani herdsmen on Christians, [are] well documented in Nigeria. What is most disturbing about the attack that took place this week was the coordination of the attacks on four villages,' he said.

Stark said many leaders believe that Boko Haram and its affiliates are inciting the Fulani to attack the Christians.

The increasingly aggressive posture of the Fulani tribe is further reason for northern Nigerian Christians to be apprehensive, he said... " (The next four reports prove that Islam is not a peace loving religion as Pope Francis claims and reports.

3 Christians executed after refusing to convert

WND.com reports: "A Syrian city overrun by the Muslim Brotherhood was the scene of the execution of three Christian men who refused to convert to Islam, according to reports.

The Catholic young men were killed by rebels fighting the regime of Bashar al-Assad after they had taken control of the village of Maaloula, confirmed Todd Daniels, a spokesman for the American human rights group International Christian Concern.

'Based on the statement from the Melkite patriarch, these men were martyred because they refused to recant their faith,' Daniels said.

7 year-old Indian boy tortured and killed for being a Christian Christian Today reports: "A 7-year old boy has been tortured and murdered because of his Christian faith in northern India, Gospel for Asia reports.

The body of the boy, named only as Anmol, was found in a pond last week with shocking injuries that reveal he was subjected to torture before being brutally murdered.

He went missing on November 17 after attending Sunday school at a Believers Church near his home. His parents identified a body pulled out of a pond as that of their young son the next day.

Anmol's family has been a target for persecution since 2003, when his father, Harish, became a Christian after witnessing the miraculous healing of his older brother.

Many other family members came to faith, and Harish was known to be 'one of the strong believers' of the local church. His family has received multiple threats of violence and even death as a result of their beliefs..."

Christians being 'targeted' in Egypt

ChristianToday.com reports: "A U.K. Coptic Orthodox leader was in Washington DC on Tuesday [12/10/13] to give evidence about the discrimination being experienced by minority religious groups in Egypt.

Bishop Angaelos, a General Bishop in the Coptic Orthodox Church in the U.K., spoke alongside four other witnesses before the House Committee of Foreign Affairs at a Congressional hearing highlighting the escalation of human rights abuses in Egypt.

The timeliness of the hearing was noted as yesterday marked International Human Rights Day and Bishop Angaelos labelled it 'providential' that the committee happened to be meeting on that day.

Alongside Zudhi Jasser, Mr. Samuel Tadros, Morad abu-Sabe and Mr. Tad Stahnke, the bishop discussed concerns about the 'culture of impunity that has led to a lack of equality' in Egypt, as minority religious groups suffer abhorrently at the hands of rebels and the government.

Coptic Christians in particular are frequently subjected to violent attacks as a result of their faith in the north African nation, which is currently struggling with a weakened and unstable political system..."

Girl Guides ultimatum: Remove God from your oath or be expelled

ChristianToday.com reports: "A Girl Guides troop from Newcastle has reportedly been told that unless it removes any explicit mention of God from its membership oath, it risks expulsion from Girl Guides U.K.

The national organisation adopted a new secular oath this year with the wording 'to be true to myself and develop my beliefs' replacing the traditional promise to love God.

Leaders of the 37th Newcastle Guide Unit, based out of Jesmond Parish Church, have not entirely rejected the new oath but have said they would prefer to offer new Guides the choice using the original oath.

Glynis Mackie told the Daily Mail, 'We would use this new form of words but we do want the children to have the choice to say the old Promise if they want to.'

Ms. Mackie is clearly unimpressed by the new oath that took effect from September 1, describing it as a 'fridge magnet promise that doesn't really mean anything'... Palestinians see worrisome trend as 'honor' killings rise Haaretz reports: "A silvery green olive grove set in the red soil of a Palestinian village is a crime scene - testament to a practice so sensitive that it is spoken of only in whispers.

One night in late November, Rasha Abu Ara, a 32-year-old mother of five, was beaten to death and strung from a gnarled tree branch as a gruesome badge of 'family honor' restored.

The woman's alleged sin was adultery, and her killer was either her own brother or husband, security sources told Reuters. Both are behind bars while an investigation continues.

Her murder brought to 27 the number of women slain in similar circumstances in Palestinian-run areas this year, according to rights groups - more than twice last year's victims.

The rise has led Palestinians to question hidebound laws they say are lax on killers, as well as a reluctance to name and shame in the media and society, which may contribute to a feeling of impunity among perpetrators.

'It feels like something that belongs to another time,' said one young man in Aqqaba who refused to give his name, the first hints of a beard on his chin. 'But, it's standard.'... (Sharia Law is deadly. Honor killing involves daughters who have experienced premarital sex. The father, brothers, or cousins then must put the daughter to death for bringing dishonor to the family name.

In the next headline the men who commit adultery only suffer for 80 seconds. How unfair to Islamic women who die for premarital sex.

Afghanistan is a little tougher on adulterers, as they are lashed or stoned to death publically. All homosexuals are also put to death under Sharia Law.

Syria: Lashes in town square for 'adultery' as Sharia Law reigns

Israel National News reports: "Syrian cities under rebel control are being ruled by a strict interpretation of Islamic, or Sharia, law - as a video surfaced showing a man being served with lashes demonstrates.

Sharia courts are run by groups associated with Al Qaeda, including the Al-Nusra Front and the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria (ISIS). The Authority of the Sharia system apparently applies to all areas of daily life, and have the power to dole out capital punishment.

Many of these courts are in the northern areas of Syria - rebel strongholds - and have armed militias which carry out punishments, according to reports.

The video shows a youth being whipped on adultery charges. The accused was brought to the town square and lashed in front of hundreds, including teenagers and young children. The sentence was read and the young man was hit dozens of times in the back, neck, and legs by a man wearing black executioner-style garb.

During the punishment, which lasted about a minute and twenty seconds, the crowd shouted 'Allahu Akbar' as a sign of confirmation of a sentence.

Once the lashing is over, the accused also appears to receive hugs from the Al Qaeda crew. The intensity of the whipping was relatively weak compared to punishments recorded in Saudi Arabia and other countries; it seems that the main goal of distributing video is to send a message of law and order in Syria without showing horrific images to lure youth into supporting the new system..."

Afghanistan considers reintroduction of public stoning for adulterers

The Guardian.co.uk reports: "Afghan government officials have proposed reintroducing public stoning as a punishment for adultery, Human Rights

Watch said, even though the practice has been denounced both inside and outside the country as one of the most repugnant symbols of the Taliban regime.

The sentence for married adulterers, along with flogging for unmarried offenders, appears in a draft revision of the country's penal code being managed by the ministry of justice.

There are several references to stoning in a translated section of the draft seen by the Guardian, including detailed notes on judicial requirements for handing down the sentence.

'Men and women who commit adultery shall be punished based on the circumstances to one of the following punishments: lashing, stoning [to death],' article 21 states. The draft goes on to specify that the stoning should be public, in article 23.

News that the government is contemplating bringing back a much-reviled punishment is unlikely to go down well with the western governments that back Kabul..."

Pope: 'Authentic' Islam opposes violence

WND.com reports: "The Quran's instructions on violence are well-documented – 'So when you meet those who disbelieve [in battle], strike [their] necks' – so commentators are expressing dismay at a newly released statement from Pope Francis that 'Authentic Islam and the proper reading of the Quran are opposed to every form of violence.'

'How does he know that? When did he become an imam?' wondered columnist Pamela Geller.

'At a time when Christianity worldwide is under siege by Islamic jihadists, the leader of the Catholic church claims that the Quran teaches non-violence,' she wrote.

It was in a new 'Evangelii Gaudium' – an apostolic exhortation from Pope Francis that he addressed the issue.

It's on nearly the last page of the many thousands of words from the pope that he writes, 'Our relationship with the followers of Islam has taken on great importance, since they are now significantly present in many traditionally Christian countries, where they can freely worship and become fully a part of society. We must never forget that they 'profess to hold the faith of Abraham, and together with us they adore the one, merciful God, who will judge humanity on the last day.'

He continues, 'The sacred writings of Islam have retained some Christian teachings; Jesus and Mary receive profound veneration and it is admirable to see how Muslims both young and old, men and women, make time for daily prayer and faithfully take part in religious services. Many of them also have a deep conviction that their life, in its entirety, is from God and for God.'..." (This article by Pope Francis proves that he promotes atheists as personalities he will meet in heaven if they obey their conscious even though Titus 1:15 shows how ridiculous this religious leader's statement is according to God's Holy Word.

Syria: Islamists find a new way to behead

Israel National News reports: "The horrific acts being carried out in the Syrian civil war know no bounds. The war has seen more than 120,000 people killed in just under three years, with many mass executions documented, as well as on thousands of women and girls, and torture of prisoners, sometimes ending in their death.

A new book currently on sale documents close to 3,000 victims of execution, who were killed by forces loyal to Syrian strongman Bashar al-Assad, according to its authors. Videos show entire families, from babies to old grandparents, who had their throats slashed with knives.

But Islamist rebels are also involved in mass atrocities. Over the last few months, pictures have been published showing rebels literally slaughtering Assad's soldiers. They even go a step further, often beheading their victims and showing the head to the camera, as a sign of victory over the Alawites and Shiites.

In a newly published video, made by an organization identified with Al Qaeda, terrorists proudly demonstrate what they call 'the fastest way to behead Alawites.'

A captive is seen kneeling, his hands tied behind his body and his eyes covered with cloth. In front of him is a pickup truck equipped with a heavy machine gun. A member of the Islamist organization points the gun to the victim's head and fires, as cries of 'Allahu akbar' are heard..."

Al Qaeda: Death to Shi'ites for 'damaging Mohammed's legacy'

Israel National News reports: "A video has surfaced from the Al Qaeda-affiliated Islamic State of Iraq and al-Shams (ISIS) in Iraq and Syria advocating the systemic genocide of Shi'ite Muslims for allegedly 'damaging Mohammed's legacy' in perpetrating their beliefs.

The video opens with a speech from a judge in the northern Syrian city of Aleppo, which has been a focal point of territorial fighting between the forces of Syrian President Bashar Assad and rebel forces. The judge's job: to establish rule over the Syrian city through the implementation of Sharia, or Islamic religious law - including doling out execution orders.

Brandishing a Kalashnikov assault rifle, the judge turns to jihadi fighters in the Sinai Peninsula, urging them to resist calls from the Egyptian army to back down from fighting.

'Don't fear the Egyptian or Israeli armies,' the judge declares and calls for jihadi fighters to renounce their commanding officers and remind them that on the Islamic Day of Judgement, they will be held accountable for calling off the (global) Jihad pan-Islamist organizations like Al Qaeda support.

The Egyptian army has launched a wide-scale offensive against Al Qaeda linked groups in the region, as part of a larger struggle against Islamic terrorism. Al Qaeda operatives have responded with videos like these calling the Egyptians 'enemies of Allah' and launching attacks of their own against Egyptian national forces.

'We are coming to kill all the infidels in the West and beyond to spread Allah's law (Sharia) and the book of Allah (Koran) and to raise them to the highest level,' he continues.

'We came to kill anyone that stands in our way. The flag that says that 'there is no God but Allah' will be raised over Parliament Buildings and in capital cities around the world [. . .] with these simple weapons we will liberate this country and this people and bring Islamic law to control all the world - Europe, U.S., Australia, New Zealand, Asia and Africa. ...' (This headline is being promoted throughout Islam. U.S. plan gives Jerusalem holy sites to Vatican

WND.com reports: "Secretary of State

John Kerry quietly presented a U.S. plan for eastern Jerusalem that calls for an international administrative mandate to control holy sites in the area, according to informed Palestinian and Israeli diplomatic sources.

The exact composition of the international mandate is up for discussion, the sources said, but Kerry's plan recommended a coalition that includes the Vatican, together with a group of Muslim countries such as Turkey and Saudi Arabia.

The international arrangement is being proposed as a temporary solution for about two to three years while security arrangements in Jerusalem between Israelis and Palestinians are finalized, said the sources.

Israel, the sources said, was not receptive to the particulars of Kerry's plan, especially the concept of Turkish participation in Jerusalem. Kerry told the Israelis he would hold talks with the Kingdom of Jordan about its playing a leading role in the proposal in the place of Turkey, the sources added..." (Our President, according to The Wall Street Journal is the most anti-Semitic, anti-Jew president ever. E.U. dangles 'unprecedented' aid package for Israel-P.A. deal Israel National News reports: "The European Union on Monday [12/16/13] pledged 'unprecedented' levels of support to both Israel and the Palestinian Authority in the event that the two parties reach a final status agreement which would include the establishment of a Palestinian Arab state in Judea and Samaria, along with the ethnic-cleansing of at least 100,000 Jews in communities throughout the region.

Commending U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry for his efforts in launching direct talks between the two, E.U. foreign ministers said the 28-nation bloc would 'contribute substantially' to post-conflict arrangements to ensure the sustainability of a peace deal.

'The E.U. will provide an unprecedented package of European political, economic and security support to both parties in the context of a final status agreement,' the ministers said in a statement.

Outgoing chairman Mahmoud Ali Youssouf described the issue of the Palestinian state as the 'central question' for the world's largest grouping of Muslim nations as he launched its three-day Council of Foreign Ministers meeting in the Guinean capital Conakry.

As expected, he also slammed Israeli 'settlements' in Judea, Samaria and Jerusalem.

'It is incumbent upon us to continue our advocacy for the creation of a Palestinian state recognized by the United Nations,' he said, according to AFP.

'To this end it is for the international community to take measures to put an end to the Israeli occupation, the continuation of settlements on Palestinian land and abuses committed against the Palestinian people,' he charged..."

PLO: No 'deals' with Israel, unless we get everything we want

Israel National News reports: "John Kerry has been proposing ideas and programs aimed at encouraging Israel and the Palestinian Authority to enter into final-status agreements, and Israeli politicians on the left and right debate whether Israel can trust P.A. chief Mahmoud Abbas – not to mention Hamas – in a 'land for peace deal.'

But the PLO, the political body led by Abbas, remains adamantly opposed to anything less than the effective destruction of the State of Israel as its price for a 'peace' agreement. At recent celebrations commemorating the 26th anniversary of the start of the second Intifada, the PLO issued a statement in which it said that it would not compromise on any of its basic requirements to make a deal with Israel: A full Israeli withdrawal from all lands liberated in 1967, establishment of Jerusalem as the capital of a Palestinian state, and a full return to their original homes the families that fled Israel when it was established in 1948.

Such a 'refugee return' would inundate what is left of Israel with millions of Arabs who would essentially destroy the Jewish character of the state, turning it into a 'secular, democratic' state that, like other such states in the Middle East (like Lebanon) would likely be eventually wracked by civil war and strife.

The PLO added that it would also object to any temporary deal, which would 'legitimize the occupation,' and allow continued Jewish residence in Judea and Samaria..."

Iranian supreme leader: Israel 'doomed to collapse'

Israel National News reports: "Iranian supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei said Wednesday [11/20/13] that Israel is a 'regime doomed to collapse.' His threats come as the latest round of talks over Iran's nuclear weapons program is being held in Geneva.

AFP reports that Khamenei told commanders of the Islamist Basij militia force in Tehran: 'the Zionist regime (Israel) is a regime whose pillars are extremely shaky and is doomed to collapse.'

Responding to Israeli concerns over Iran's nuclear weapons program, Khamenei called Israel 'the rabid dog of the region' and claimed Israel poses a threat to the world, not Iran. The Basij crowd responded with cries of 'Death to Israel' and 'Death to America.'

Khamenei had insults for Israeli officials as well.

Deputy Foreign Minister Ze'ev Elkin (Likud) on Tuesday [11/19/13] backed previous statements that Israel could militarily act alone to defend itself from the Iranian nuclear threat.

Perhaps in response, Khamenei said 'the title of human is not worthy of the leaders of the Zionist regime,' adding that the Iranian response to a military action would be 'a slap in the face they will never forget.'

Khamenei further said in a live state television broadcast that 'any phenomenon that is created by force cannot endure,' referring to Israel's numerous defensive wars fought to ensure the country's existence. ..."

The National Post reports: "A notorious Russian terrorist may try to stage attacks during the Sochi Winter Olympics that begin in Russia in less than two months, de-classified Canadian intelligence documents are warning.

A confidential intelligence report obtained by the National Post says Doku Umarov is a 'fervent Islamist' who subscribes to al Qaeda doctrine that legitimizes the killing of Western civilians.

The Chechen warlord leads Imirat Kavkaz (IK), an armed Islamist group fighting to impose Islamic rule in Russia's North Caucasus, the mountainous region that borders Sochi.

Umarov has called for attacks on what he calls the 'satanic games,' says a second report. Both threat assessments were circulated within government earlier this year by the Integrated Terrorism Assessment Centre..." (My heart is burdened for the Winter Olympics in Sochi, Russia. The Boston marathon bomber got his training within 100 miles of Sochi.

Terrorists flood the area and Islamic terrorists hate homosexuals. President Obama, you are exasperating the situation by sending gay delegates from the U.S.A. to represent you in your absence.

I pray that there will be no attacks against scores of these Olympians, but I fear.)

Putin dissolves state news agency, tightens grip on Russia media

Reuters reports: "President Vladimir Putin tightened his control over Russia's media on Monday [12/9/13] by dissolving the main state news agency and replacing it with an organization that is to promote Moscow's image abroad.

The move to abolish RIA Novosti and create a news agency to be known as Rossiya Segodnya is the second in two weeks strengthening Putin's hold on the media as he tries to reassert his authority after protests against his rule.

Most Russian media outlets are already loyal to Putin, and opponents get little air time, but the shake-up underlined their importance to Putin keeping power and the Kremlin's concern about the president's ratings and image.

The head of the new agency, to be built from the ashes of RIA Novosti, is a conservative news anchor, Dmitry Kiselyov, who once caused outrage by saying the organs of homosexuals should not be used in transplants.

'The main focus of ... Rossiya Segodnya (Russia Today) is to highlight abroad the state policy and public life of the Russian Federation,' said a decree signed by Putin.

Sergei Ivanov, the head of the presidential administration, told reporters that the changes were intended to save money and improve the state media..." (The Russian bear is awakening.
