Cloud of dust and rain 'act of G-d' to save Israel from ISIS

December 11, 2016 -- Israel National News reports: “According to the Mirror, A huge storm which stopped on the border between Syria and Israel was ‘unable’ to enter Israel’s Golan Heights region. The storm was allegedly ‘sent by G-d’ to protect Israel from ISIS.

It is believed that the storm occurred last Thursday, December 1, at around 8am.

Israel News Online wrote on Facebook, ‘A weather phenomenon occurred at 8am Thursday on the other side of the Syrian border, in the same place where ISIS attacked Israel.

‘This strange storm of what appears to be dust, cloud and rain did NOT cross the border fence into Israel. It sat like a barrier between ISIS and Israel.’...” (“And the angel

December 15, 2016 -- The Times of Israel reports: “Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu used a visit to Kazakhstan Wednesday to send a warning to arch-enemy Iran: Don’t underestimate us, we are tigers, not rabbits.

During a meeting Wednesday morning in Astana with Kazakh President Nursultan Nazarbayev, the host asked Netanyahu whether he could deliver a message to Iran’s president, Hassan Rouhani, who is set to visit the Central Asian country next week.

Netanyahu replied yes, according to a senior official with knowledge of the details of the discussions. ‘Ask him why Iran continues to threaten us with annihilation. Don’t you understand: we’re not a rabbit, we’re a tiger,’ the prime minister told Nazarbayev.

Netanyahu also told Nazarbayev that ‘if Iran attacks Israel it will put itself at risk,’ the official said, speaking on conditioning of anonymity...”

Canadian imam asks Allah to burn all of Israel

November 25, 2016 -- Israel National News reports: “A Canadian imam expressed joy over the fires that have broken out throughout Israel over the last few days and prayed that Allah would burn all of Israel.

Mazin AbdulAdhim, a prominent imam of Iraqi descent in London, Ontario who is affiliated with the radical Hizb ut-Tahrir group, wrote on Facebook, ‘Aside from the interesting coincidence that all these fires spread wildly due to ‘unusually strong winds’ just as they are trying to ban the Athan [call to prayer] across the lands they occupy, what’s even more interesting is how this event further exposes their severe weakness and near-total dependency on foreign help, as they beg for foreign assistance and aid to save them.

‘They don’t control the world. They can barely even control the tiny sliver of land that was given to them for free by the British after World War I,’ wrote AbdulAdhim.

‘Without the puppet tyrants protecting their spineless backs, and without annual welfare checks from their sugar daddy in the U.S., they wouldn’t last a week.

December 12, 2016 -- Israel National News reports: “Iran’s defense minister on Sunday warned that if U.S. President-elect Donald Trump’s policies lead to a war in the Middle East, it would result in the destruction of Israel.

‘Even though a businessman, the assistants that Trump has chosen may map a different path for him, and this has led to unease, particularly among Persian Gulf countries,’ Defense Minister Hossein Dehghan was quoted by Reuters as having told a security conference in Tehran.

At the same time, claimed the Iranian minister, ‘Considering Trump’s character and that he measures the cost of everything in dollars, it does not seem likely that he would take strong action against our country.’

‘Enemies may want to impose a war on us based on false calculations and only taking into consideration their material capabilities. Such a war would mean the destruction of the Zionist regime (Israel) ... and will engulf the whole region and could lead to a world war,’ Dehghan warned, according to Reuters.

December 15, 2016 -- Israel National News reports: “Iran’s Supreme Leader, Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, said on Wednesday that Israel could be destroyed within 25 years through a united ‘Palestinian struggle’, PressTV reports.

Speaking during a meeting with the head of the Islamic Jihad terrorist group, Ramadan Abdullah Shalah, Khamenei praised the Palestinians’ motivations and added, ‘The only way to liberate the holy city of Al-Quds is struggle and resistance, and other solutions are useless and futile.’

Khamenei referred to the young Palestinian Arab population as an important factor for the ‘Palestinian resistance’.

‘The Zionist regime — as we have already said — will cease to exist in the next 25 years if there is a collective and united struggle by the Palestinians and the Muslims against the Zionists,’ he said.

Khamenei also reaffirmed Iran's support for the Palestinian nation and said, 'Despite being engaged in certain regional issues, the Islamic Republic has always announced explicitly that Palestine is the number one issue in the Muslim world and has fulfilled its obligations in this regard.'

He went on to describe the United States as 'the most arrogant power and the Great Satan,' adding that Washington is the main reason behind the current problems in the region..."

Pastor in China upholds faith after nearly year in prison

November 24, 2016 -- MorningStarNews.org reports: "A pastor in southwestern China, jailed for nearly a year on fabricated charges and suffering a liver disease, focuses on trusting God in a letter of encouragement to his wife, according to China Aid.

Authorities took Pastor Li Guozhi, better known as Yang Hua, into custody after a raid on his church in central Guizhou Province on Dec. 9, 2015. In a Nov. 8 letter to his wife, Wang Hongwu, Pastor Yang encourages her to focus more on God than on the 'noise' of humanity, according to the Texas-based advocacy organization.

'Our wonderful God, our Lord forever,' he writes. 'Who can guess His wisdom and mystery? Our faith is built on His words (He never changes and never does wrong; this is the unchangeable maxim). Sometimes, somebody will decide something by guessing and then testing their theory, but we don't. We listen more to God and less to human beings.'

After describing how doctors applying sulfur ointment were able to heal the scabies he had suffered all over his body, he tells her not to worry about his health.

'The fatty liver disease was diagnosed in prison,' he writes. 'The suffering is bearable. The Lord has grace. The canker sore has not returned since May of this year. Thank God.'

Pastor Yang was initially arrested for 'obstructing justice' and 'gathering a crowd to disturb public order' after he tried to stop authorities from confiscating his computer hard drive, according to China Aid. He was sentenced to two consecutive, five-day administrative detention sentences for each charge, but on Dec. 20, 2015, when he was supposed to be released, his wife saw authorities forcing the blindfolded pastor into an unlicensed vehicle, the advocacy group said..." November 25, 2016 -- ChristianToday.com reports: "A young Iraqi Christian in the village of Qaraqosh, near Mosul, has told of being forced at gunpoint to convert to Islam under Islamic State.

Also interviewed is a woman who speaks of her despair at the destruction of churches in the town.

Qaraqosh was taken over in 2014, when Ismail was only 14 years old. Now 16, he told the BBC how he and his mother were forced to become Muslims.

‘They told me to say ‘there’s no God but Allah’ and you’ll become a Muslim. I said, ‘There’s no God but Jesus’ so he slapped me. I was still young,’ Ismail said.

‘He slapped me and pointed the gun at my head. He told my mum, ‘If you don’t convert to Islam we will kill your son.’“

He also told of witnessing the murder of six people by children.

‘A car stopped and six blindfolded people dressed in red got out. They had them on their knees and then IS children arrived. Each child stood behind one of the men in red. Someone who seemed to be their leader started reading from some papers. When he finished reading, the children shot the men dead.’...”

Middle Eastern Christians facing ‘tragedy’: church

December 19, 2016 -- Breitbart.com reports: “A leading church figure in the Middle East said Monday Christians across the region were facing a ‘tragedy,’ and accused the international community of failing to act.

‘The situation of Christians, especially in Syria and Iraq, is a tragedy,’ said Archbishop Pierbattista Pizzaballa, apostolic administrator of the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem, in a press conference ahead of the Christmas holidays.

The Latin Patriarchate of Jerusalem heads the Roman Catholic Church in the Holy Land.

He said up to two-thirds of Christians have left in those two countries, citing in particular Aleppo — the previously mixed city in northern Syria which has been devastated by more than five years of civil war.

‘In Aleppo, before the war there were 300,000 (Christians),’ he said.

‘Now it is about 50,000 maximum.’

He accused world governments of failing to act to help stabilize the region, instead resorting to ‘slogans.’...”

Ohio knife jihadist praised Muslim terror ‘hero’ before attack

November 29, 2016 -- WND.com reports: “The Somali refugee who stabbed Ohio State University students with a butcher knife Monday praised a well-known al-Qaida terrorist on his Facebook page minutes before his attack, yet authorities say they are not ready to assign a motive.

Police shot and killed the man as he was attacking students outside a science building. Eleven people were transported to area hospitals with various injuries, according to the Columbus, Ohio, fire department.

The dead attacker was reportedly an Ohio State student – an 18-year-old Somali refugee named Abdul Razak Ali Artan, who left Somalia with his family for Pakistan in 2007 and obtained a green card to enter the U.S. in 2014. He reportedly lived near campus, CNBC News reported.

‘To go over the curb and strike pedestrians and to get out and start striking them with a knife, that was on purpose,’ campus Police Chief Craig Stone said. ‘Our officer was on the scene in less than a minute, and he ended the situation in less than a minute. He engaged the suspect, and he eliminated the threat. The suspect is DOA.’

Artan was quoted in the campus newspaper, the Lantern, several months ago complaining about the school’s lack of Islamic prayer rooms.

‘I wanted to pray in the open, but I was kind of scared with everything going on in the media,’ he stated. ‘I’m a Muslim, it’s not what the media portrays me to be.’

Islamic State claims Ohio State attack: Abdul Razak Ali Artan was a ‘soldier’

November 30, 2016 -- Breitbart.com reports: “The Islamic State has claimed responsibility for the Monday car and knife attack on Ohio State University, describing 18-year-old Somali-born terrorist Abdul Razak Ali Artan as one of its ‘soldiers.’

The Islamic State’s al-Amaq news agency issued a statement making the claim. Vocativ notes that ISIS often makes dubious claims of responsibility for terrorist attacks, but also points out that official Islamic State media released a video encouraging ‘lone wolf’ terror attacks on Saturday, specifically recommending knives instead.

In that video, a French-speaking jihadi advises to not ‘spare women, children and the elderly’ and consider ‘a simple weapon, like a pocket commando knife.’ The video also instructs viewers on how to stab to maximize the deadliness of the attack.

An Islamic State-linked propaganda magazine released in early November made similar suggestions, urging lone wolf attacks as a response to the slow, but largely successful coalition assault on Mosul, the terrorist group’s last major stronghold in Iraq.

Artan ran over and stabbed 11 people, none of them fatally, before being shot dead by heroic Ohio State University police officer Alan Horujko...”

Islamic State loyalists after Ohio State rampage: ‘We ask Allah to shake up America with new attacks’

November 30, 2016 -- Breitbart.com reports: “Writing on an encrypted messaging application, Islamic State loyalists celebrated Monday’s deadly shooting at Ohio State University after the terrorist group, through its affiliated news agency Amaq, claimed responsibility for the carnage.

The hateful messages were obtained by Breitbart Jerusalem after they were posted on a closed group for Islamic State militants and supporters using the encrypted messaging app Telegram. IS reportedly utilized Telegram to release a one-paragraph statement to further claim that Abdul Razak Ali Artan, the perpetrator of the attack in Ohio, was one of its jihadists.

‘Our agency Amaq claimed responsibility for the attack in Ohio,’ the user who goes by the name of Abu Hajar Alshami wrote. ‘Thank Allah for the gift of jihad that he received. Allah bless the perpetrator. We ask Allah to welcome him as a martyr in heaven, and to welcome us just the same. Blessed be all those turning their weapons to the tyrants and infidels. They play a huge role in the war of jihad.’...”

20-year-old in North Carolina planned to murder hundreds for Islamic State

November 30, 2016 -- Breitbart.com reports: “20-year-old Justin Nojan Sullivan pled guilty on Tuesday morning to a chilling terrorist plot in which he planned to use a silenced gun to murder hundreds of people in Virginia and North Carolina on behalf of the Islamic State. He has agreed to serve a life sentence in prison.

‘Justin Sullivan planned to kill hundreds of innocent people. He pledged his support to ISIL and took calculated steps to commit a murderous rampage to prove his allegiance to the terrorist organization,’ said FBI Special Agent in Charge John A. Strong, of the Charlotte, North Carolina, office, as quoted by the Associated Press.

‘Sullivan admitted in court today that he attempted to commit acts of terrorism transcending national boundaries by planning mass casualty shooting attacks on behalf of ISIL against innocent people in North Carolina and Virginia,’ stated U.S. Attorney Jill Westmoreland Rose.

‘It is frightening to know that the defendant in this case was able to use social media to contact and seek advice from ISIL, a murderous organization,’ Rose added.

More specifically, Sullivan planned to attack a concert, nightclub, or other crowded venue, where he thought he might be able to kill up to a thousand people. He was planning to film the slaughter and give the video to ISIS. He also proposed pulling off a few ‘minor assassinations’ for training purposes before carrying out ‘the big attack.’...”

German city submits to Sharia law

December 11, 2016 -- Israel National News reports: “A German court has ruled that a vigilante patrol of Islamists enforcing Sharia law on the streets of a German city did not break German law, and that its members were simply exercising their right to free speech.

The seven Muslim men often walk the streets of the western German city of Wuppertal wearing orange vests emblazoned with the words ‘Sharia Police.’ They were charged with wearing uniforms of a political nature at public rallies.

This is forbidden in Germany by virtue of a law that was originally designed to prevent neo-Nazi groups from parading in public.

This past Nov. 21, the Wuppertal District Court ruled that the vests were technically not uniforms and did not pose a threat or intimidation. The court ruled that prosecuting the seven Salafi Islamists would infringe on their freedom of expression.

Though it may be appealed, the decision authorizes the ‘Sharia Police’ to continue enforcing Islamic law in German cities, encouraging them in their bid to replace German law with Islamic Sharia.

Salafism is a virulently anti-Western ideology that openly seeks to replace Western democracy with an Islamic government based on Sharia law. It has long been feared that the Salafists have made major encroachments into the German legal system...”

December 12, 2016 -- Breitbart.com reports: “The daughter of Palestinian immigrants is to be the Berlin senate’s secretary of state for coordinating federal and state affairs, but attention has focused on her recent remarks in support of Sharia law.

Berlin state senate member, former deputy speaker for foreign affairs and Muslim rising star of German politics Sawsan Chebli is to get a new cabinet post. The appointment by the Red-Red-Green coalition government has caused concern after a recent interview in which she expressed her view that Sharia law was perfectly compatible with secular German society.

Speaking back in August alongside Berlin Social Democrat party Mayor Michael Muller, she not only defended Sharia law against suspicion by many Germans who she accused of not understanding what it meant, but she also went on the attack too. Criticising members of anti-mass migration party Alternative for German (AfD), she said their views towards foreigners made them fundamentally un-German.

Speaking to the Franzfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, she said: ‘My father is a pious Muslim, hardly speaks German, can neither read nor

12-year-old attempts terror attack in Germany

December 17, 2016 -- Israel National News reports: “German police arrested a 12-year-old Iraqi boy for attempting to plant explosives in the Christmas market near the Ludwigshafen municipality.

The police believe ISIS is behind the attack.

The boy, who is also a German citizen, attempted to carry out the attack on November 26. He placed a bag of explosives in the centrally located Christmas market, which was packed with people.

However, the bag did not explode, preventing what would have been a large-scale attack on civilians.

A few days later, on December 5, the youth again attempted to carry out an attack, this time placing the bag and its explosive content near a bush by the local municipality. A passerby reported the suspicious bag to the police, and police sappers promptly arrived to neutralize the explosives.

Sources say the boy told investigators that the explosives contained ‘pyrotechnical material made from fireworks and detonators. A lab test proved the material was flammable but not explosive, and did not pose a danger to nearby buildings. One of the interrogators said the boy told German media that he ‘had recently become a Muslim extremist, and learned how to carry out attacks from ISIS activists.’ He also said he intends to join ISIS in Syria next summer...” (“...*whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. In a defiant online message, Muhajer described Islamic State’s military losses this year as setbacks and said an array of forces in Iraq and Syria had failed to defeat the jihadists.

He said Islamic State supporters would target ‘the secular, apostate Turkish government in every security, military, economic and media establishment, including every embassy and consulate, that represents it in all countries of the world.’

Since the battle to retake the last jihadist bastion in Iraq began six weeks ago, the United Nations rights office has reported hundreds of alleged execution-style killings by IS, stressing that some of the purported atrocities have not been definitively confirmed.

The most recent allegations include a November 22 killing of ‘a seven-year-old child who was running toward the Iraqi Security Forces

That shooting was part of a reported trend of IS gunmen spraying fire on those trying to escape the strife-torn city, according to the rights office.
