THE LORDjesus
Christ

The Holy Bible gives God's Son manifold titles. However, the one that means so much to all of us as poor, helpless sinners is "Savior" — which immediately instills hope within one's heart concerning salvation.

The very name Jesus means "salvation." Matthew 1:21 states, Thou shall call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. Multitudes today are trusting in manmade rituals to get them inside God's heaven. Yet, there isn't a ceremonial rite in all of Christendom's churches that can save a man. Jesus Christ alone is the only way to eternal life.

Christ's saving power

In that tremendous portion of Scripture often described as the "Magnificat," Mary, the mother of Jesus, cried out, My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour (Luke 1:46-47). In Luke 2, the angel of the Lord appeared to the shepherds, saying, Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of word: For mine eyes have seen thy salvation (29-30). He was looking upon the Christ child as he spoke those words.

Again in John 4, a wicked woman — who had five husbands and who was living under common law with number six — turned to Jesus Christ for forgiveness. Then she excitedly ran back to the city and told the people about her newfound joy in this Savior who had blotted out her sordid past. The men of that city listened to the Lord's discourses for two days and exuberantly stated, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world (v. 42).

In Acts 5, Peter and some of message might be proclaimed. I can almost hear this impulsive preacher saying, We ought to obey God rather than men. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree. Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour (v. 29-31).

Acts 13:23 calls Him a Saviour, Jesus. Ephesians 5:23 says, Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body. Compare this verse with 1 Corinthians 12:13, For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body. The Body of Christ, into which one is implanted at the time of regeneration, is the Church, and Ephesians 5:23 states that Christ is the Savior of this Body. Baptism, reformation, confirmation, works, creeds, and human efforts cannot place one into the true Church because only the Lord Jesus Christ is alone the Savior. Amen!

The Apostle Paul stated that one of the reasons he was willing to endure suffering, torture, and even death was because of his trust in the Savior. Death could only mean that the One who saved him would welcome him home to heaven. Hear him in 1 Timothy 4:10: For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

In 2 Timothy 1:9-10, Paul went on to say that it was not a system of self-attainment through works that would place him eternally in the glory land, but rather a precious Savior whose name was Jesus Christ. Listen to the simplicity of these instructive verses. [God] hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel [or through the good news].

Again, He hath abolished death. What wonderful words! And [He] hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. Immortality speaks of eternal life — and it comes through the Gospel or the “good news.” Do you get the impact? Eternal life is through the Gospel and gospel means “good news.”

This good news is explained in 1 Corinthians 15:1-4 where we find that Christ died, was buried, and rose again the third day according to the Scriptures. Put it all together and it simply says that everlasting life does not come through one’s denominational record or good works. It comes as a result of one’s acceptance of the Savior’s death by the shedding of blood and of His resurrection. Titus 2:13 speaks of Christ’s return by stating, Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. Notice that it is not Buddha, Mohammed, or Zoroaster who is the Savior, but only the Lord Jesus Christ. There is no other Savior — Jesus is the only way. 2 Peter 1:1 again calls Him our Saviour Jesus Christ.

Christ’s earthly ministry

“Savior” is not some honorary title that was bestowed upon the Lord Jesus Christ in recognition of His wonderful teachings. Rather, it depicts His ministry upon earth and speaks of His saving power.

Presently, we are living in a time of rebellion. Corrupted mankind is trying to destroy all of our foundational structures. This trend can also be witnessed in the religious world as apostate, liberal clergymen mock the doctrines of the virgin birth, the deity of Christ, His blood atonement upon the cross, and His bodily resurrection. Many laugh at the statement “Jesus saves,” as if the word “saves” were an invention of some simpleton.

Our God predicted this would happen, and it is one of the signs of the end. 2 Peter 2:1-2: But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be [one of the signs] false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

There are two things one can do for these poor misguided souls: (1) pray for them, and (2) thank God for their presence because it means that Jesus Christ is coming soon to call Christians home. Let them laugh. The term saved was placed in the Bible scores of times by a Holy God. One had better investigate and accept this truth if he is interested in eternal life.

I could quote numerous verses proving that salvation is of God and that God put this word in the Bible. However, let’s limit our discussion to those that speak exclusively about Christ being the way of salvation: Thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins (Matthew 1:21). For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost (Matthew 18:11). God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him [Jesus] might be saved (John 3:17).

Jesus said, I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved (John 10:9). I came not to judge the world, but to save the world (John 12:47).

Paul said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved (Acts 16:31). For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ

[not rites, ceremonies, rituals, the Sermon on the Mount, the Golden Rule, or the Ten Commandments, but the Gospel or the Good News of Christ]: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth (Romans 1:16). We shall be saved from wrath through him (Romans 5:9). If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved (Romans 10:9).

In 1 Corinthians 15:1-2 we find this statement: Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel [the good news] which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; By which also ye are saved. How? Verses 3 and 4: Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and...he was buried, and...he rose again the third day according to the scriptures. This alone is the message of the Gospel, the Good News, the only precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. Revelation 1:5: Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. Yes, without [the] shedding of blood [there] is no remission [of sins] (Hebrews 9:22).

It is not enough simply to state that Christ died — as so many intellectuals do today in order to do away with the sacrifice of His blood. A bloodless death on the cross would not have saved anyone. Let me repeat that. Had Christ died of a heart attack or of suffocation upon the cross, mankind would have been lost forever, for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul. Because of this fact, Christ came to earth to take upon Himself a body with blood so that He might shed that blood for our sins (see Hebrews 10:5). When one receives this sacrifice of the shed blood of Jesus Christ, he is saved immediately.

The only reason some people will never get saved is that they do not realize that they are lost. They think they were born into sainthood just like the Pharisee in the temple. He said, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are (Luke 18:11). However, Jesus said in Matthew 5:20, Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Why? The Pharisees were so caught up in the admiration of their own goodness that they were convinced they needed nothing from God — nothing at all! Yet, God says in Isaiah 64:6, We are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags. Galatians 3:22: The scripture hath concluded all under sin. Thus, God not only wants to save mankind from the misery of sin in this life, but also from the eternal penalty into which sin will drag those who reject way of salvation. Christ died, shed His blood, and rose again.

Christ’s redeeming blood

Christ’s power to save all the world was wrought through His precious blood shed on Calvary. Leviticus 17:11: It is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul. Acts 20:28: The church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. 1 Peter 1:18,19: Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; But with the

Christ’s redemptive purpose

If the Lord Jesus Christ is the Savior and has saving power, we may conclude that He came to earth because sinners need saving. This is exactly what Paul said. This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners (1 Timothy 1:15). Not only does this statement include everyone we know, but ourselves as well. Christ would have all men to be saved, including you and me (1 Timothy 2:4). [Christ] gave himself a ransom for all (1 Timothy 2:6).

Christ. He that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth [eternity] on him (John 3:36). Why? Because he won’t receive the Son.

Oh, my friend, if you are lost, the Savior longs to save you. You need saving because all are sinners and only through His blood can you be washed white. You may be whitewashed because you’ve had all the rituals of the Church performed upon you, but you really need to be washed white to inherit eternal life! Why not call on Him right now, saying, “Lord Jesus, come into my heart”? 🙏

Where WOULD I Be?

We are in my favorite time of the year. As we celebrate Thanksgiving and Christmas, my mind goes back to all those wonderful times I had together with my family. We had a wonderful tradition in our home for Christmas. We would never open our gifts until my father read the entire Christmas story. He always emphasized that the birth of the Savior is what Christmas is truly about, not the opening of gifts, not even enjoying Mother's wonderful dinner, but the awe-inspiring fact that God became flesh to dwell among us. What a blessing it was to be reared in a home that taught the truths of God's love and the joy of celebrating the birth of Christ as a family.

by Dr. Rexella
Van Impe

We recognize the contrast this is to what the world celebrates today. The emphasis in our society is shopping, decorating, and rushing around so much to the point that we hardly have time to enjoy Christmas. It seems like the stores put up their Christmas sale displays earlier and earlier each year. I wouldn't be surprised to see some of them come up with a "Back to School Christmas Sale" in the month of August. Christmas has become a time when people often go out on a limb financially, and even get into debt, in order to provide gifts for friends and loved ones. There is nothing wrong with wanting to give someone a gift. There is a special joy and blessing in sharing as long as we put the right value on it. A gift under the tree should always remind us of the Gift from heaven — the tree also should remind us ultimately of why Jesus came to be our Savior. And of course, it reminds us of Calvary's tree.

Every gift that we buy, every gift that we open, and every gift that we look at under the tree should remind us of the greatest gift of all — a gift that was laid in the manger and wrapped in swaddling clothes — which brings us to the Christmas story.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn (Luke 2:7).

As I read of our Lord's birth in the gospels of Luke and Matthew, I cannot help but wonder two things. Where would I have been and what would I have done if I had been on the earth at that time? Would I have reacted the same way to this ancient scenario as some people reacted? First of all, where would I have been and how would I have responded if I had been the innkeeper?

We all know that as a result of the decree of Caesar Augustus, every person was required to go to the town of his or her birth to register and pay taxes. This is why the innkeeper had a problem. Yes, the inn was filled to capacity and therefore no room was available for Joseph and Mary. I'm sure that if he had an extra room he would have said, "Oh yes, you are going to have a baby, you are going to soon bring forth a child, and so I need to give you the best room in my inn." But because of the overflow of people, there was no room. If I had been the innkeeper, would I have been sitting behind the desk saying, "I don't have room for you, but I'll put you in the stable"? Or would I have come out from behind that desk with compassion and understanding and found a warm and comfortable place for Mary to have her precious baby?

Every time I read this passage I think of the story of the young boy who was born with Down Syndrome who had a part in his church's Christmas pageant. This young boy loved the Lord and was so proud to be playing the part of the innkeeper. He went around the house practicing his lines: "There's no room at the inn — you will have to stay in the stable." The night of the pageant came and there he was, dressed in costume and standing before the audience. The two children came in who were playing the parts of Joseph and Mary; they said their lines and waited for the response from the innkeeper. He looked nervous, but then took a deep breath and said his line just as he had practiced it, "There's no room at the inn — you'll have to stay in the stable." As Mary and as well as the middle and upper classes of society. I would probably say that the innkeeper would be considered, in that era of time, as the middle class of his society. Had I been in the middle class of that day, would I have been humble enough to say, "I will go into the stable, you stay in my room"? Where would I have been if God had given me this choice to make? What a great opportunity to show my love and compassion for the parents and for the Savior of the world.

IT BRINGS TEARS TO MY EYES TO THINK THAT THIS IS WHERE GOD KNEW
AND DIVINELY PLANNED FOR HIS SON TO BE BORN.

Joseph started to exit the stage to move on to the next scene, a pained look came across his face and suddenly he cried out: "No, wait, wait, you can have MY room!"

Oh, to have such a loving heart as that precious child exhibited. What a joy that would have been for me if I had been able to say as the innkeeper, "Please come and stay in my room; enjoy my humble dwelling and let me help you through this special time as you are ready to give birth." Would I have just remained behind that desk and said to my co-workers, "Take them into the stable and they can have the straw out there on which to lay the baby"? It brings tears to my eyes to think that this is where God knew and divinely planned for His Son to be born.

The Gospel story is inclusive of every class of people; the lowly

Let's take a look at another class of people — the lowly shepherds.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people (Luke 2:8-10).

Being a shepherd during the time of Christ was not a 9-5 job. The shepherds would spend every hour of every day with their sheep, leading them, protecting them from predators and thieves, and tending their wounds. If I had been a chosen shepherd that heard the voice of an angel, would I have received the message? Or would I have said, "Oh no, oh my goodness, this is just a dream, I can't accept this. This is too much to absorb. Who am I? I'm just a poor little shepherd out here; I can't be expected to actually have seen an angel and have the glory of the Lord around me and hear the angel announce, 'For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.'" I find it hard to imagine what they thought. But where would I have been? Would I have said, "I'm going to leave the sheep and I'm going to follow the greatest announcement that has ever been given to the world, and that is that Christ the Lord has been born"?

Would I have said, "I'm going to leave the sheep and I'm going to follow the greatest announcement that has ever been given to the world, and that is that Christ the Lord has been born"?

Traditionally, the sheep that were raised in the fields near Bethlehem were used for the Temple sacrifices to cover the sins of the people. How beautiful and how perfect is it that God called these shepherds, who were very familiar with the requirements for a sacrificial lamb, to be the first ones to see, outside of Mary and Joseph, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.

I pray that I would have done exactly what these lowly shepherds did. That I would have not only listened to the announcement, but I would have heard and reacted positively. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

I can almost hear God saying: Well, you may have trouble believing in the message from one angel, so I'll show you the Heavenly Host. If there had been any shadow of a doubt in their minds, there could be no question that this was something tremendously out of the ordinary.

Think of it: the shepherds could have been frightened beyond all description, but the minute they heard the host praising God and saying Glory to God, they said, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem.... I can't imagine the tremendous shaking in their hearts as they thought, "Here is God's Son being born. Let's go now to see heaven's greatest gift to the world."

Once we get a message from heaven, our response should be "Let's go now." When Jesus gave the Great Commission, our response should be "Let's go now."

I am so grateful that God not only gave the middle class (the innkeeper) the opportunity to come forth and be blessed, but He also gave the humble lowly shepherds the same opportunity.

Once again, let's consider a third class of people. The wealthy upper class — yes, the lofty wise men who responded to another heavenly sign and came to worship Jesus.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him (Matthew 2:1-2).

Nothing much is known about these wise men, or Magi, other than they were from the Orient. Historically the Magi were scholars, with a great knowledge of science, agriculture, mathematics, and history. These Magi saw a spectacular star appear in the sky, such as they had never seen before, and they took it to be an indication of an extraordinary person being born in the land of Judea.

If I had been a scholar, a wealthy wise man, and I saw a star suddenly appear before me, would I have followed it? It would have been very easy for them to say: "If an important king were born that warrants such a sign, I'm sure that we will hear of it soon in our own country, and then we can go and pay homage to him." But they did not wait. They set out to find this King, and to worship Him. It was not easy as they traveled the dusty, hot long trail on their camels. Yes, it necessitated going through the desert — and all simply because a star gave the announcement of Christ's birth.

When they arrived in Jerusalem, they began asking: Where is He who has been born King of the Jews? The original Greek here emphasizes a continual action, suggesting that they went up to every person they saw and asked it. Because they as foreigners knew of this monumental birth, they assumed that everyone in Judea, and especially in Jerusalem, would have been aware of this also. Can you imagine the shock they felt when no one seemed to know about that to which they were referring?

I believe that they must have begun to question all that they had seen and heard up to this point. Here they were after having traveled a long distance because of a star that they had seen while in their homeland. They must have been terribly confused as to where they should go. Despite what is traditionally taught, the Bible here indicates that the star did not appear to them and lead them during their travels. The passage here tells us that they did not see the star again until after they had met with Herod.

When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy (Matthew 2:9-10).

The joy that they felt when they saw the star once again was almost indescribable. The original text piles up superlative upon superlative to emphasize the extent of exhilaration they felt. The star not only reappeared, but it led them directly to the home where Jesus was.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense and myrrh (Matthew 2:11).

When they got to the house of Mary and Joseph, they did something that they longed to do: they bowed down and worshipped Jesus. Then they presented their gifts to Him, gold, frankincense, and myrrh. The Bible does not tell us what was done with these gifts, but it is very likely that Joseph used them to finance the trip they had made to Egypt and help to support the family while they were there. We know the reason for their journey to Egypt as found in Matthew 2:13-15.

Now, I must put myself in the Magi's place. Where would I have been while in the atmosphere of my homeland? Could I be thinking, "I don't need the desert, I don't need to get on that camel and go to who knows where"? Would I have tried to rationalize the signs away? After all, there could be many meanings to that star — how do I know for certain that this is really something special? It could just be an unusual confluence of stars in the sky without any special meaning. Thank the Lord they said that this is significant, this is important, we have to go and find out about the true meaning of this special sign. They went, they asked the right questions until they got the true answer they needed to find Christ Jesus, the Savior of the world. Would I have been that persistent?

As the innkeeper, would I have stayed behind the counter and told Mary she could go into the stable to have her child among the animals? Instead, I trust that I would have been quickly on my feet to help her.

I pray that I would have been one of the shepherds quickly on my feet to say "Let us go now" as the angels instructed.

And if I had been a wealthy Magi, I trust that I would have used that wisdom to follow the star and keep asking the right question until I found the way to worship Jesus.

What would I have done if I lived back then? Whether I was wealthy, middle class, or poor, where would I be? I trust that I would have made the right choice.

Today I have the joy of making the right choice! I have chosen to open my heart and life to Jesus the Lord and ask Him to dwell there. Truly one can only be complete if He is in the heart!

As we celebrate this glorious season, we need to keep our eyes on what is truly important. This is so beautifully illustrated in the painting by Rembrandt The Adoration of the Shepherds where all of the light was made to fall on the baby in the manger. Every one and everything else was only in the shadows. Let us focus on Him, now and always. 🌟 testimonies

I just said the prayers with you both and I just want to say thank you for sharing how important it is to have Jesus in the hearts of all people.

LETTERS we love

I've asked Jesus into my heart, and I long to grow closer and closer to Him. I watch your show every week and I want to say thank you for speaking the truth and standing up and telling the truth about Islam. You and your wife are such a blessing! I love your program because you actually teach what the Word of God says.

—D.F.

I have never been a Bible thumper ... that is until I realized that the Bible is the way, the truth, and the life ...

Drs. Jack and Rexella Van Impe,
Thank you for always preaching and revealing the truth — the resurrection power of Jesus Christ on the cross. It seems we are surrounded on all sides by utter apostasy. Have you seen the garbage and hype coming out of these churches and entertainment ministries? I was utterly appalled when I saw Joel Osteen on Oprah talking about “I am” and those vultures on “Campmeeting” with their prosperity garbage.

I have never been a Bible thumper ... that is until I realized that the Bible is the way, the truth, and the life, and those guys on TV are deceiving millions. Not only on TV, but I have been invited to and visited churches where there is no cross anywhere. It's like Jesus Christ Superstar. I walked away thinking, This is not right. This is not what Jesus did.
You are the only person I've seen with holy boldness like He had. It's real and authentic. I don't go to church because it discourages me and frightens me. When I do go I go to the Catholic church because it's the only one that actually teaches communion and the cross. I know the truth. It is a complete turn-off to me to sit through a typical church service because I feel like it is phony and a production. All of them. I watch your broadcast online and I study the Bible and talk with friends and in small groups.

Anyway, thank you for your courage and holy boldness and commitment. I love you for it. God bless you and keep you both. —A.F.

We are a married couple of pensioners — pre-baby boomers (!) living in a small town right at the bottom of Africa, Plettenberg Bay.
We have loved your program for many years and a recent episode made us realize just how our dear Lord had His hand on your life from your very beginning. Also your miraculous recovery from the most recent attempt by the evil one to take your life ... Oh thank you, Jesus.
You have opened our eyes to the way evil works in our world, and [helped by the Holy Spirit] we are able to discern pitfalls and corruption, where we didn't recognize them before.

Both of you have aided millions to know Jesus, and yet your humble attitude is wonderful to behold.
Thank you both. We would be so grateful for your prayers; my husband has only a tiny amount of sight left, but we are praying for enough vision to see his grandchildren, until we all are raptured. —R.D.

Dear Rev. Van Impe,
It suddenly occurred to me this afternoon that your “roots” are in Belgium! My heart goes out to you as the act of Islam-inspired terror there must surely pierce your heart. My thoughts and prayers are with the people of Brussels.
I am a retired Baptist pastor who began his ministry near Indianapolis in 1972. Sometime during my five years in that church, I attended one of your powerful crusades and was very blessed by it.

May God continue to bless you and Rexella and your ministry.
In Christ's Service,
—A.K.

Thank you very much for the light that you have brought to me in my life.
I watch you on many occasions and every time there is something important for me. I do not attend church regularly, and if I did, I may be warped in some ways because you are among a few that consistently preach the Word of God straight from the Bible. Solo Scriptura is the term I think.
May God increase your strength. —J.S.

Dear Drs. Jack and Rexella Van Impe,
I see televangelist pastors who dedicate their entire time slot to begging for money and promising three-fold returns for sewing $1,000 seeds ... They're flying around in private jets, living in high-rise condos, and driving luxurious super cars. I see others who refuse to speak the truth for fear of “offending” people.
It is such a breath of fresh air to see the passion you have for bringing the TRUTH to people without watering it down, sugar-coating, or leaving out aspects that some people may find “offensive.”
I struggled with my faith for years as I didn't know which direction

The book of Revelation and the future interested me, I guess because, to me, it was learning the future — and exciting.

to go. It wasn't until I stumbled upon your program late one night on television, back in December, that I finally felt “connected” and began to reignite my faith. I've since asked the Lord Jesus to come into my heart and cleanse me. Through your ministry, I feel drawn to my faith more so now than ever before. I have a strong desire to learn more about my Christian faith, and I strive to strengthen my relationship with the Lord Jesus.
My wife and I look forward to watching your weekly program. We've also ordered some of your videos to enlighten us further about the Christian faith and the dangers of radical Islam, false prophets, and other pitfalls. I wish our paths could have crossed sooner!

Thank you so very much for taking the time to speak out against what is going on in the world and bring others closer to Jesus through your ministry. —C.D.

I used to watch your show in the 1990s and I had not seen it since. The other day I was wondering what ever happened to Jack and Rexella? I was very happy to find you on the Internet. I thank God that both of you are still spreading the Word of God and a message of peace. I was also very happy to see your same announcer who has one of the greatest voices ever. May God bless all of you and may He grant you the strength and good health to continue spreading your message for many years to come. I will continue tuning in to your show every week. —J.P.

I know you have spent your life blessing us all in God's Word, and "thank you" is too small for your great devotion.

Hello ... I just wanted to take a minute on my lunch break to write JVIM a quick note.

I am a FedEx Freight driver, and I delivered freight across the street from the JVIM building. I am a fired-up believer in Jesus Christ, and I am being led by the SPIRIT to do more for HIM.

My testimony is being kind of watered down by the enemy — he is continually telling me, "You are just doing this to make a name for yourself; quit trying to do this, it's just for you...."

I prayed about this, because I do NOT want to do anything for ME! It is all for Him! But the Lord led me to this area for the last few days (I usually run a different area). I believe He did this to show me the JVIM building! It isn't about a name! It is about HIS NAME! I'm sure Mr. Van Impe isn't doing all he does for his own name, but the Lord's! The Lord gave me a FIRE for Him, and it has been two years STRONG! I grew up in a home where my dad ALWAYS watched and believed he'd see the Lord's return, and now I do!

Driving by your building today, I felt the SPIRIT of the Lord all around the area — the SPIRIT of Christ is MOVING! And He told me to write and say Thank YOU!

—A.S.

It's such a blessing to hear the Word of GOD openly and truthfully. So many places would kill you or arrest you for sharing the Bible. But praise God, at this moment, we still have that freedom.

I know you have spent your life blessing us all in God's Word, and "thank you" is too small for your great devotion. I pray God richly blesses you and your loved ones today and always.

A grateful heart for God's truth ... Can't wait to meet you at the house.

—J.J.

I recently lost my cousin who was 46. He was a diabetic and had to have his leg removed four inches below his knee. He became very angry and depressed; the family prayed and prayed for him, and he made a decision to accept Jesus as his Savior. We were all so happy.

It seemed to all of us he was well on the road to recovery after having the surgery. He even returned home. Suddenly, he fell and hit the back of his head causing many blood clots, strokes, blindness, coma, and then life support. The doctor came in and said he was brain dead. All of this was very hard on our family.

What really helped us was listening to you and Rexella every day on our laptops.

You speak the truth of Christ, you tell of His return, His promises, and our blessed assurance of life with Him in heaven.

We can never, ever tell you how much you encourage Christians in this world. You are like a lighthouse shining in the dark. God bless you both for the love you have for Jesus, and may He continue to use you to serve Him by sharing the Word.

Thank you so much for the encouragement in a world full of pain and suffering.

We love you both so much and will pray for Christ's return soon.

—S.F.

Driving by your building today, I felt the SPIRIT of the Lord all around the area — the SPIRIT of Christ is MOVING!

KAYLA MUELLER IN CAPTIVITY: COURAGE, SELFLESSNESS AS SHE DEFENDED CHRISTIAN FAITH TO ISIS EXECUTIONER 'JIHADI JOHN'

September 2, 2016
— ABCNews.com reports: "American hostage Kayla Mueller was tortured, verbally abused, forced into slave labor for ISIS commanders in Syria and raped by the group's top leader, but her fellow hostages say she never surrendered hope, she selflessly put the welfare of fellow captives above her own and she even stood up to executioner 'Jihadi John' to defend her Christian faith.

Four former hostages who shared cells with Mueller, speaking publicly for the first time about their shared ordeal for ABC News' '20/20' broadcast, 'The Girl Left Behind,' airing Friday, say the Prescott, Arizona, humanitarian aid worker was a courageous 25-year-old who inspired them.

Their ISIS guards were overseen by the British tough Mohammed Emwazi, who would later be dubbed Jihadi John, as he carried out the beheadings and killings of 10 hostages. The Londoner led three other Britons who oversaw the hostage operation. Their prisoners called them 'The Beatles.' (The Lord Jesus Christ announced what would happen to faithful soul-winning Christians as one of the final signs happening upon earth at the time of His Return: "...be faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life" —Revelation 2:10.)

U.S. CHURCHES WARNED OF 'LONE WOLF' TERROR THREAT

September 2, 2016
— ChristianToday.com reports: "US churches are being told to arm themselves in preparation for potential terror attacks, following rising threat levels in the UK and growing fears that churches could be targeted.

Chuck Chadwick of the National Organisation of Church Security & Safety Management warned US churches to be vigilant.

'What we over here can expect is the lone wolf attack,' he said, '[and] it looks like bombing is becoming popular again.'

Speaking to One News Now, Chadwick suggested that the solution is armed security. 'Having a person who is armed and can respond in deadly force may be an option' he said, adding that churches of all sizes should be ready. 'If it does happen, we're prepared; if it doesn't happen, all glory to God.'

Chadwick's organisation, which is based in Texas, specialises in church security and safety; its 'Gatekeeper' programme has put hundreds of armed security officers in churches across the state.

The call to arms follows reports that Dabiq, ISIS's online propaganda and recruitment magazine, called for radicals to target western churches..." (Jesus said in Luke 22:36: "... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment [clothes], and buy one." Why? "...he that killeth any man shall surely be put to death" —Leviticus 24:17.)

GERMANY TELLS CITIZENS TO STOCKPILE FOOD AND WATER IN CASE OF ISLAMIST TERROR ATTACKS

August 21, 2016 — Breitbart.com reports: "For the first time since the end of the Cold War, the German government plans to tell citizens to stockpile food and water in case of an attack or catastrophe, the Frankfurter Allgemeine Sonntagszeitung newspaper reported on Sunday.

Germany is currently on high alert after two Islamist attacks and a shooting rampage by a mentally unstable teenager last month. Berlin announced measures earlier this month to spend considerably more on its police and security forces and to create a special unit to counter cyber crime and terrorism.

'The population will be obliged to hold an individual supply of food for ten days,' the newspaper quoted the government's 'Concept for Civil Defence' — which has been prepared by the Interior Ministry — as saying.

The paper said a parliamentary committee had originally commissioned the civil defence strategy in 2012..." (God's leaders and ministers are to warn the people. It's commanded by God — "Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul" —Ezekiel 3:17-19.)

The headlines make it clear:

JESUS is coming soon!

You and your family must be Rapture-ready!

Prepare yourself, your family, and your church for Christ's appearing in the clouds to call His children home.

The Rapture is not the same thing as the Second Coming — though millions have been deceived about this. Dr. Jack Van Impe's book and DVD set the record straight and answer many more questions, including:

- If an individual has heard the Gospel and the Rapture occurs, will that person have another opportunity to accept Jesus as Lord during the Tribulation?
- What is the Tribulation? What is the purpose of the 21 Tribulation judgments? How drastic are they?
- What is the nature of the coming world church? How will this international institution cooperate with the world identification number "666" and the image of the Beast?
- Will Russia invade Israel? If so, under what circumstances?
- What are the signs of Christ's return?
- Who is the coming world ruler? What is his role in latter-day prophecy?
- The U.S. and Russia: How does their connection play into Rapture events? Why is it said that the U.S.-Russia relationship is prophecy in fast-forward?
- What about nuclear war? Does the Bible refer to nuclear devastation when it talks about the elements melting with fervent heat?
- And more!

This book and DVD will not only answer your questions, but will also help you share the answers when your friends or family members have questions about the Rapture and Bible prophecy (1 Peter 3:15).
